Course Description:

This course surveys a wide range of global issues. Topics will be covered include, for example, globalization, conflict and cooperation, global security, global economy, development, environment, human rights, gender issues, etc. Students will learn basic concepts, analytical tools, and approaches for studying issues affecting social change on a global scale.

Course Goals/Objectives:

This course has two important goals. The first is to give students an understanding of major global issues. Students will learn about diverse cultures, regional integration, globalization, and global conflict. The second is to train students to use a variety of data to analyze global and societal issues, as well as to suggest solutions to real-world problems. Students will be expected to develop critical thinking skills and perspectives to better understand the global issues. Students will engage in various types of class activities, such as class participation, group discussions and presentations.

Topics/Assignments:

The course is divided into two main sections:

i) Global issues

ii) Presentation and discussion on global issues

We will explore the themes of the class using a variety of materials: readings, case studies, videos, and internet source materials. The class will include in-class exercises and homework assignments.

Required Materials:

Students are not required to purchase any specific textbook. Several reading handouts will be distributed in class at various points during the semester. A properly organized and well-maintained two-ring notebook is your textbook for this course. It is important that you keep all handouts, exercises, group tasks, and homework in the notebook. Students are required to bring all of the handouts, worksheets and readings that the teacher gives to class.

Course Policies (Attendance, etc.)

Participation is required at all classes. Students are expected to attend all the classes on time, participate actively in all class activities and complete all assignments on time. As a criteria to pass this course, students are required to attend at least 80% of the total class time. If you have four or more 'unexcused absences' you will be asked to withdraw from the class. All kind of absences must be presented with concrete documents and will be approved case by case. Problems related to your class performance should be brought up to the instructor as soon as possible.

An 'unexcused absence' is any absence for which you do not have permission. Medical reasons, family emergencies and so on are NOT counted as "unexcused absences" and will NOT INFLUENCE YOUR GRADE.

Class Preparation and Review

Students are expected to spend at least one hour preparing for every hour of lesson, and one hour reviewing and doing Homework. The reading materials must be read and prepared before class. Lectures will stress the most important issues addressed in the materials, and may go beyond the scope of the handouts for certain topics. Therefore, it is important for you to attend class.

Grades and Grading

Class participation and group discussion 10%

Assignments (including group presentations) 20% (2 x 10%)

Mid-term (oral) report 25%

Final report 45%

Total 100%

Attendance as such is not a part of the final grade - but PARTICIPATION is!

Methods of Feedback:

Students receive feedback in few forms.

Feedback on the form and content of the written work is provided within one week from submission of the written work. This feedback is in a form of comments on their writing and suggestions how to improve form of presenting their answers and hints on the missing merit content. Feedback on students' oral answers is provided ad hoc in the classroom during open discussions. Feedback on students' presentations and presentation skills is provided individually during office hours, in order to avoid embarrassing comments in front of the whole class.

Diploma Policy Objectives:

Work completed in this course helps students achieve the following Diploma Policy objective(s):

- 1. Advanced thinking skills (comparison, analysis, synthesis, and evaluation) based on critical thinking (critical and analytic thought)
- 2. The ability to understand and accept different cultures developed through acquisition of a broad knowledge and comparison of the cultures of Japan and other nations
- 3. The ability to identify and solve problems
- 4. Advanced communicative proficiency in English
- 5. Proficiency in the use of information technology
